EDMONTON'S MAY DAY PARADE

Edmonton's May Day parade was impressive in its proportion, and its banners were flying. It tended to be also a day when mothers and children in line with the mottoes they displayed left no doubt as to their dissatisfaction with the conditions in which they find themselves.

The majority of the marchers supposedly came from rank-and-file employees who leave from time to time and find themselves precariously close to the border line between self-dependence and relief. As a demonstration against unemployment and the threat of unemployment the turn-out was a striking one, more so than it was at the time of the May Day parades of last year. The conditions normally show decided signs of improvement. The parades evidently did not see that the future looks any brighter than the past.

Some of the banners, and the speeches at the market square, implied a good deal more than dissatisfaction, and suggested the necessity of a sweeping change in our economic arrangements in the direction of communism. It is not to be inferred that all the parades were convinced converts of communism, but the condition normally shows decided signs of improvement. The parades evidently did not see that the future looks any brighter than the past.

For the most part the parade was orderly. The parades were well dressed. They showed no signs of under-nourishment. They were good-natured and cheerful, singing as they marched, offering no violence, and the police escort had little or nothing to do but direct traffic. For that, congratulations are in order to all concerned.

A ONE-WAY DOLLAR?

Rather than let the metal leave the country, the Government of the United States defaulted $270,000,000 worth of gold claims held by European creditors against United States debtors.

That was the purpose and effect of the problem of the exchange rate between the United States and its European creditors, who were holding United States gold, will have to content themselves with dollars which they cannot exchange for gold.

But Washington still expects, or claims to expect, that the debtor nations will pay their debt instruments to it in gold. Europe will not but does like to do so. For these reasons they haven't the gold, and probably cannot get enough of it now that the United States has been made a closed area. And they have President Roosevelt's word that he will not let the United States gold be used and sufficient satisfaction for a claim to gold.

Perhaps the debtor nations will instruct their debtors in the United States to send Washington the number of dollars they owe there. As Washington has already gathered in all the gold in the world, that would seem to be a matter of book-keeping.

Washington can hardly insist that it has a one-way dollar, good for 25 grains of gold when it moves eastward across the Atlantic but not good for the same quantity and quality of the same metal when it moves from one point in the United States to the national treasury.

REVISING THE TERMS

The protest of British manufacturers against the trade agreement made at Ottawa last fall has evidently produced results, how important remains to be seen.

Mr. H. Thomas announced in London that the Government of Canada has made some "variations and additions" to the famous schedule "E" as a result of which preferences or increased preferences are now granted to Britain in respect of more than 200 articles. The Canadian government has consented for a time to add the British schedule "D" as worth only $425 in applying its dumping duties instead of initiating upon the absurdly fictitious value of $40 hitherto attributed to the pound.

What the Canadian government means by "a reasonable amount to be not excessive" is not easily determined. The huge no doubt large amount to lessen if they do not quiet the rising storm of dissatisfaction that has been brewing among British manufacturers, particularly textile manufacturers, over the last few years, but the restrictive regulations were to apply to the Canadian market, they thought they were entitled to get under the agreement.

The agreement is not yet a year old. It and the regulations have had to be modified in consequence of objections from British interests, virtually concerned in developing export trade—and also widely influential in aiding and abetting the import of Canadian products into Britain.

It would be the time Ottawa sent out some more detailed literature on the great broadening the trade agreement conferred upon British industry, and the powerful stimulus that has given to Empire trade and good feeling.

THE TERRIBLE INTERVAL

The world last year missed $404,181,000 worth of gold. British Empire countries produced 715 per cent of the total, upwards of three-quarters of the world output.

It is not possible for the nations to return to the previous gold standard. Empire countries would benefit if a group. Canada would profit in particular, since it is the second largest producer; by a reversal of all the disadvantages it is now incurring in the present system would be avoided if that metal is everywhere accepted after an arbitrary and fixed price, the large producing country gains. When it is not in demand for money purposes, the producing country loses its advantages as a producer of gold, silver and other gold or silver or the prices of its other products decrease.

It is scarcely possible that there will be a general return to the former standard. But some arrangement may be arranged for the settlement of international debts, and a new gold and silver standard may be adopted. More likely it will be an arrangement in which gold and silver will rank in fixed relations as money metals. In either case Canada will gain, since it produces silver also in large quantities.

Almost any standard, in fact, is at all possible of adoption will be to our advantage. If it is to be gold, any ratio to currency, we have the gold. If it is to be gold and silver, we have both. It is to be currencies, and we have neither. We have them. Any change will be better than the present position. Canada is not suffering from a lack of gold, silver, or the things these can buy; from physical sterility.

The changing Government refused to recognize the passing of the former gold standard and to adopt a money policy that would prevent default wrecking the country before another international standard has been agreed upon.

Health and Diet Advice

By Dr. Frank McCord

SCARLET FEVER NEED NOT BE SERIOUS

Scarlet Fever is an acute contagious disease and is not to be regarded as a neighbor of ours since neighbors often transmit it from one household to another by visiting back and forth. Infectious patients with it should be kept away from others for at least four weeks or longer.

The rash is sharp and sudden and in a typical case it first appears on the chest. The fever disappears and rises quickly. The three days of fever are often dry and red and the child complains on swelling, which may object to orange juice since he says it hurts his throat.

The tonsils become very swollen and the child feels very ill. The tongue becomes thick and the skin is generally red.

The rash begins to appear on the face, particularly around the eyes and nose. The child feels very ill.

The fever subsides rapidly and the child begins to feel better. The rash disappears and the child begins to feel well again.

The Passing Show

By J. S. Cooper

People who assume that to be one of His Majesty's judges is an honour of long and distinguished service, were surprised to learn of the death of Sir Henry McCardie, Britain's famous bachelor judge, at the age of 63—presumably by his own hand.

Sir Henry's singular wisdom was plentifully quoted from his columns several weeks ago when tribute was paid to his humanity, fearlessness and common sense. His judgments in matrimonial cases have established new precedents more in accord with the spirit of the age than those of his predecessors.

The master of the bench was a comparatively early life for a judge of the court of common law, but he was a man of independent means and had no dependents. He probably had no call to stay and endure, so in some contemplation of the facts decided to leave the bench.

Sugar Tax Passes House

Liberals in Demand for Less Costs

Government Told It Should Retrench—Take Lesson From Life

OTTAWA, May 3.—The two-cent sugar tax was voted down yesterday after demands from Liberals for a general retrenchment scheme to trim the costs of government. Official Ottawa, said Hon. James L. Flavelle, former minister of trade and commerce, should take a lesson from private business and cut its overhead. He intimated the government had been over-spent in various government departments and, at the same time a nation-wide depression had equipped to handle the same work.

The sugar tax was voted down first by the Senate. Finance minister E. N. Rhodes said he was unable to accept various suggestions to make the tax more exemption. His resolution to lessen the taxation burden.

It would exempt 10-pound purchases or less of glucose, grape, corn and sugar cane syrups from the tax. The bill was withdrawn.

May CUT INTEREST?

A general draft for trimmed government cost by the former trade minister said it might be necessary to cut interest on the national debt. Redistribute the taxation burden for necessities to luxuries and cut the cost of living by lowering tariffs and abolition of restrictive regulations.

The former minister said the finance minister was aware of the necessity of trimming the national debt. Redistribute the taxation burden for necessities to luxuries and cut the cost of living by lowering tariffs and abolition of restrictive regulations.

No, we have not," replied Mr. Rhodes. "I gave it full consideration before I voted against the budget."

UNDER NO ILLUSION

The government is under no illusion about its unpopularity, but neither is it under any illusion about the dire necessity of securing the added revenue.

"We are not blind to our own heads," said Mr. Motherwell.

Sugar purchases in British Columbia were up 20 per cent in the day the budget was introduced in parliament. There were larger increases in the rest of the country. The finance minister said he had been told it had just $175,000 in taxation.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Finance, did not let the item pass without stating his strong objection to the sugar tax. He asked that it be referred to a committee which had not seriously considered advancing the tax altogether in view of the present economic situation.

"No, we have not," replied Mr. Rhodes. "I gave it full consideration before I voted against the budget."

So said Mr. Rhodes, when asked in what manner he had voted in reference to the sugar purchases owing to the leakage on the tax.

Treasure Seekers Throng Ranch Of Alleged Kidnapper

PIERRE, S. D., May 3.—A "gold mine" of $100,000 has been found in the Black Hills.

Ever since federal authorities reported finding $36,000 in currency on the body of Charles Boettcher, Chamberlain, alleged hideout of the gang which received $100,000 for the kidnaping of George Charles Boettcher, wealthy Denver broker, there has been a rush of money.

Armed with picks and shovels, men and women are reported digging a search of more of the ran-

Trapper Took 90 Coyotes, Brazeau

A remarkable catch of coyotes was made by the Brazeau forest ranger, with whom he is a good foot-hills trapper, when he took a total of 90 coyotes in traps.

"The coyotes were good times prices for them," grinned Johnson, who is outfitting at the camp near the Brazeau river lines, believing that the bush is a better place than the city to live in right now.

Johnson says that the rabbits, which were what the woods last winter, will be thicker next winter. Then they will depend on the 7-year cycle provided by nature.

Changes in the composition of reserves are as detailed on page 16 of the report. Working assets at the end of 1932 were $1,000,000, the whole of which had been expended. The minister said he had been told that it had just $175,000 in taxation.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Finance, did not let the item pass without stating his strong objection to the sugar tax. He asked that it be referred to a committee which had not seriously considered advancing the tax altogether in view of the present economic situation.

"No, we have not," replied Mr. Rhodes. "I gave it full consideration before I voted against the budget."

Under NO ILLUSION

The government is under no illusion about its unpopularity, but neither is it under any illusion about the dire necessity of securing the added revenue.

"We are not blind to our own heads," said Mr. Motherwell.

Sugar purchases in British Columbia were up 20 per cent in the day the budget was introduced in parliament. There were larger increases in the rest of the country. The finance minister said he had been told it had just $175,000 in taxation.

So said Mr. Rhodes, when asked in what manner he had voted in reference to the sugar purchases owing to the leakage on the tax.

Treasure Seekers Throng Ranch Of Alleged Kidnapper

PIERRE, S. D., May 3.—A "gold mine" of $100,000 has been found in the Black Hills.

Ever since federal authorities reported finding $36,000 in currency on the body of Charles Boettcher, Chamberlain, alleged hideout of the gang which received $100,000 for the kidnaping of George Charles Boettcher, wealthy Denver broker, there has been a rush of money.

Armed with picks and shovels, men and women are reported digging a search of more of the ran-geon money.

Hiker Arrives From Vancouver

Ernest E. Lessard, who is making a 10,000-mile walk across the United States and Canada, and who commenced his trip at New Orleans in late April, reached Pierre yesterday in Edmonton recently to report his progress.

The hiker paid a visit to Mayor D. K. Knott on Wednesday and the chief mustered up a letter and also give him a letter of introduction to Mayor Louis D. Taylor of Vancouver.

Trapper Took 90 Coyotes, Brazeau

A remarkable catch of coyotes was made by the Brazeau forest ranger, with whom he is a good foot-hills trapper, when he took a total of 90 coyotes in traps.

"The coyotes were good times prices for them," grinned Johnson, who is outfitting at the camp near the Brazeau river lines, believing that the bush is a better place than the city to live in right now.

Johnson says that the rabbits, which were what the woods last winter, will be thicker next winter. Then they will depend on the 7-year cycle provided by nature.

RICH LAD IS SORELY TRIED

DEAR MISS DIX—My case is this: Poor girl from poor family. I have a wealthy father and the knowledge of how to live well, but it is hard for me to believe. What are some of the tests a fellow can put to a girl to see if she really loves him? PUZZLED YOUNG MAN.

ANSWER: Why do you find it hard to believe the girl loves you? Are you hideously ugly? Are you too stupid to understand your wealth and overbearing in disposition. Are you quarrelsome and hard to get along with?

If you have any call or all of these faults, might think it impossible for a girl to fall in love with you. But, as far as the average human being, there is no reason why a girl shouldn't let her affections upon you. Look out for the girl who is weak and subservient at the feet of idiots who have not only feet of clay but are mostly mud. In fact, the one question you can ever answer is what man or woman saw in some other woman or man to make him or her want to be with another woman or man.

Dorothy Dix.

more seems to prefer a more inferior complex in rich people, at least so far as the heart goes. The girl upon every man who comes near her as a fortune hunter. Every going to marry him for his money.

Sorrow Of One Woman Became Origin Of W. I.

The largest women's organization in the world, the Women's International Federation, was born upon every man who comes near her as a fortune hunter. Every going to marry him for his money.

I think that the rich exaggerate very much the danger they have of being used for their money. Of course, it happens sometimes, but there are not many fortune hunters.

Most young people are more romantic than avaricious, and when it comes to selling themselves to a rich man, they are willing to go to the baits at the bargain. It is giving too much for too little. They would rather be poor than be poor and wait for what they want, and marry the women and men they love.

Of course, there is no absolutely sure test you can apply to a girl to tell whether she loves you or not. You have to take her word for it, and you will be well as you can by observing her reactions to just the little ordinary affairs of life.

An infallible test of a girl's love is her attitude toward a man and the things he likes and the things he craves. If she never wears of his companionship and wants to get him away from her, then she can listen by the hour to him while he tells all about his youth and all about his gold scores; then she is in love with him.

But if she wants to go places and do things; if she comes down with her hat on ready to go to the movies, to the park, to the movies and looks back when he begins to tell about things that have happened to him, then she has been told it was in the poignant moment when Mrs. Hoodless, the mother of the dead, lay beside her dead baby, whom owing to her own ignorance, she had been unable to care for, that she dedicated herself to strive to bring all that she had missed and she often lacked to her beloved son.

Her work has indeed been abundantly blessed, and her name liveth for evermore.

Play Is Given
At White Court

WHITECOURT, May 3.—Spontaneously organized by the Whitecourt Canadian Legion and the Ladies' Auxiliary, a three-act comedy drama, "Deacon Dan," was presented last night.

An excellent performance was given under the direction of Mrs. B. White and Mrs. J. Chaisson.

Performing were F. Reid, H. Hoy, G. Fry, A. Olson, F. Harrison, Miss Thompson, Misses Thompson, Thompson, Miss B. Craig and Mrs. D. Graham.

Admission followed the play and supper was served in the Whitecourt hotel.

It should be fairly easy to tell whether this girl is in love with you or your bank account by observing whether she is greedy or not. If she is always asking for things and reminding you of her birthday and suggesting that a gift be given, then she is a gold-digger and her fingers are firmly itching to get hold of your pocketbook.

Whoever she is, really in love with a man she doesn't hold him up for all the can get out of him. She doesn't want to run him in debt, and all she wants is to have him. She is thinking of his prosperity as her own and wanting to help him get established in the world.

Besides these, there are a thousand and other ways in which a girl shows whether she is in love or not. By her mannerisms, by her willingness before her own. By her willingness to sacrifice to him. By her mannerisms, by her willingness to want to mother him. By her giving him just that sense of security and comfort that she can know whether people really love or not.

SHILOH BAPTIST Y.P.M.S.

The Y.P.M.S. of Shiloh Baptist church made a most impressive debut on Wednesday evening when the group system was inaugurated, with Miss Georgia Lafferty and Miss Dorothy Roosevelt Jackson as leaders. Mr. Colclough gave the young people a talk on "How to Get Along With Your Parents." A tea was arranged for Thursday, May 11, at the home of Miss Preston, who sang concluding the evening's program.

Lotions Are Important In Caring For The Hands

By GLADYS GLAD

"Antiseptic Lotion for Beauty."

Dear Miss Glad: Although my hands are nicely shaped, they are neither as white nor as soft as I'd like them to be. A friend advised me to rub glycerine on them after washing, but I don't know how to wash them. Do you think that I should rub them to whitens and softens them?" —M. M.

Although glycerine is an excellent emollient for skin preparation, I would not advise you to use it. It will only exacerbate the facial contours. A girl of your age should not be afraid to wash her hands in its uncombined form. It is safe to use, but it is a tritomatic alcohol.

An individual of your type should use only white cotton collars, for they will only exacerbate the width of your face, and the squareness of your neck. For your hands, Vaseline is more satisfactory.

They will tend to make your hands look larger, and you will add to the apparent width of your face.

For Miss Glad: The first few days after you have washed your hair, it always appears most untidy. I presume that the reason is that the hair is not yet again after a shampoo because it is so fine and soft. At any rate, it is safe to use a hair oil to be used after a shampoo to keep the hair in place, and I'd like to try it. Can you tell me more?" —MRS. DIXON.

Dear Miss Glad: Those cleaning and mask treatments described here have been most beneficial and have benefited my skin most appreciably. The blackheads and enlarged pores are gone, and my face have been entirely eliminated. And my skin is much clearer and smoother than ever. However, my face is very round and full, and I'd like to make it appear more slender.

I presume that the reason is that the hair is not yet again after a shampoo because it is so fine and soft. At any rate, it is safe to use a hair oil to be used after a shampoo to keep the hair in place, and I'd like to try it. Can you tell me more?" —MRS. DIXON.

Filibuster On Bracken Taxes

WINNIPEG, May 3.—An early hour this morning the Manitoba legislature sat in session, convened and adjourned without conducting a filibuster against the Bracken government's proposed two per cent tax on salaries and wages.

Making a last stand right on the tax, Conservatives, led by J. T. Hall, and the leadership of John Queen launched an attack early in the day, but after a long and stormy session and in the evening announced they were "ready to talk all night."

Beer To Sound Knell Of Hot Cha Melodies

NEW YORK, May 2.—Musicians generally anticipate a decline in the hot-chili school musical experiments and return to a more sentimental type of music as a result of the beer influence, according to Joseph M. Weber, president of the American Federation of Musicians.

"The time seems ripe," said Weber, "for popular songs, blues, swing, country and musicians expect it, here comes opportunity to suggest a new type of song. Many orchestra leaders are reviving old favorites in their belief that will enjoy extraordinary popularity. "A further element of influence is the likelihood that beer drinking is the most popular pastime of the day," he said. "It is always the most popular because it always has been in the past. Current songs are tricky and difficult for the amateur to play, but the public's expectation that ballads will return."

"I honestly believe beer will bring a better music," said Gene Buck, president of the American Society of Composers. "Beer is always the most popular because I mean the classical. The music of the beer garden orchestra was always the most popular. Popular music was only interpersed."

"There are hundreds of fine comedians who have been compelled to express themselves in this cocky jazz era," he said, "and now it is time for them to do it in their efforts to good music. Beer will not wipe out the jazz schools though, as there always will be a place for modern music."

HOPE DIAMOND MAY LOSE ITS WEIRD CLAIM

Cycle of Misfortunes Likely to Cease, Thinks Owner

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Now that the Hope diamond is in a pawnshop it may not be the cycle of misfortune that has followed it since its purchase by Edward B. McLean since he purchased the most troublesome jewel in the world in 1925 at $250,000.

If happiness has ever come from the great blue and white diamond, it was brought back from India in 1663, nobody has ever heard of it again. It has followed in the trail of the diamond through half a century of bad luck, and it is believed it could expect trouble, tragedy and anguish.

McLean bought it anyway. Now, with his fortune gone, his wife is putting it up for security in the hope of getting a loan from the Post as a mortgage for her son, John B. McLean, III, and Edward B. Mc-

TAID 26000 FOR GEN

Not to have enough money to finance their business and social interests, McLean and his wife have either sold or given away many of their possessions which either McLean or his wife ever expected.

The six houses including "Warrior," five times larger than the original Royal Agricultural Fair, will be sold by the American firm for advertising purposes.

Kirkland Mine Superintendent Dies

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., May 3.—L. B. Smith, 44, superintendent of the Wright Hargrave mine, died at 10 p.m. yesterday of pneumonia. Mr. Smith came here four years ago from association with mining companies in Kansas and Idaho.

More than 20 years ago, McLean had a diamond ring which he lost through Cartier. He paid $30,000 for it, and when he found it again, he would look rather dazzling on her party gown. He remembered, with a smile, that it was a diamond ring.

Therefore, he stipulated that if any other man should find the ring within the next six months the jeweler must take the stone back and refund his money.

He Objects To His Picture On Sauer Kraut Cans

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 3.—Having his picture on cans of hominy and sauerkraut in cans, he disgraced and lost of social prestige, asserts Louis D. Halsell, son of a grocery wholesale merchant, 515 Main street.

Against a grocery firm, he said, he would look rather dazzling on her party gown. He remembered, with a smile, that it was a diamond ring.

Death, anguish, heartbreak.

Therefore, he stipulated that if any other man should find the ring within the next six months the jeweler must take the stone back and refund his money.

Edmonton Employment Service Plan Taking Form

More Than 30 City Organizations Join In Promoting Work

Purpose Is to Get Citizens to Spend Money on Improvements

The plan "All together for Edmonton" was adopted at the first meeting of the Edmonton Employment Service Plan Group held in the lounge room of the Hotel Alberta, May 1, when a cross section of the citizens of Edmonton took up the commerce action on a plan which it is believed will do more to promote local business than any other system yet devised. This movement, which follows an idea used in Vancouver, is the greatest time and when has been adopted in many cities along the Pacific coast.

It is the opinion of the group to increase the amount of new construction, alterations or repairs to existing buildings, residential, institutional and industrial, that people will put to work.

An interesting example of how regular employees have been called by R. C. Marshall, general chairman of the plan, told of one case where a man had been laid off and received salary reductions and could not see how such an employment service would help him. Mr. Marshall stated that if a system such as this were to be put into function, it would be important that the men taking them off relief which is exacting a heavy toll on the present government and negotiating salary reductions for salary earners. The plan will right the administration of the government and increased salaries would result. The same principle which has been applied could be applied in many instances where people, although not totally unemployed, are unable to find the punch of the depression.

SPEND NORMALY

At the outset it was made known that the purpose of the plan is to get people to spend money on improvements which the government spend it through regular channels.

The officer of the plan, consisting of the mayor, Mr. W. J. Marshall; general vice-chairman, A. J. Brown, honorary secretary, John Blane, and Mr. G. E. Taylor, representing the Local Council of Women; Mrs. F. J. O'Farrell, president of the Women's Civic League; Sid Parsons, Edmonton Traders and Labor Council; R. E. Peck, president of the Edmonton Builders' Association; Wm. Broek, representing the various service clubs; and Mr. H. C. MacDonald representing the building trades of the city were appointed to the executive committee.

The executive will meet Wednesday evening at the Chamber of Commerce offices to discuss and draw up the administrative forces of the plan, a representative of the plan will be sent to Vancouver to study the plan there.

VIKING GIRL HOLDING OWN

Lulu Hart, 18-year-old girl of Phillipsburg, was seriously wounded over the heart by her father on Sunday night when the latter attacked her at a dance hall in the city, according to information received here on Wednesday.

The girl, who was attacked by Harry, with a jack-knife, suffered to the wound inflicted in the heart, almost immediately.

The girl, taken to the Viking hospital immediately after the stabbing, became unconscious, after a splendid fight for life and, barring no permanent damage, is recovering an excellent chance for recovery.

British School Teachers Speak Out in Meeting

REBEL MOVE MADE AGAINST CONDITIONS

In Annual Conference He Now Says What He Thought

By GEORGE HARRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, May 3.—British school teachers have been speaking their minds. Some of them have cut their pay, reduced fees for education, made the path of the poor child more difficult.

And, in annual conference, the teachers have now told what they think.

Delegates represented the National Union of Teachers on conditions in certain schools read like the mortifying scenes of Dickens. In one case, sanitary conditions that of the middle ages; in another, a woman teacher said that the main schoolroom floor is covered with water after every rainstorm.
In still another, the school rates under the doors; in a third, the heating is so poor in the infants' room that it is known to freeze in the inkwells.

SOOTY LIGHTING

Several teachers complained of poor lighting. One—in modern England—reported there was no power in the winter and children had to fetch it from the coal bins.

"Close the door to the opportunities of a poor," a schoolmaster charged, "you bottle up forces which will blow you to destruction."

Nor are economy cuts the only troubling factor.

Male teachers object—very strenuously—to having women teachers on their staffs. The National Association of Schoolmasters has passed a resolution strongly resenting this. It says women should serve under headmistresses and insists all mixed schools should be under a headmaster.

JUST GONE TO DO

"A married man," complained J.
W. A. Taylor, Liverpool, during the discussion, "cannot serve under a woman. He has a wife who is taking orders from another woman.
he is not very happy in his home."

G. Carruthers, also of Liverpool, told of a case where a schoolmaster who went home one day weak and miserable,

"What is the matter?" questioned his wife.

"Miss Jones has been cross with me," he replied.

And the unfeeling conference laughed.

YALE BOWLERS SENIOR CHAMPS

Final playoffs in the Senior Ten-Pin League were rolled last night at the Recreational Arms between the Victoria team and the Yale Yale team, for championship honors with the Yale team taking four games of the scheduled seven.

The Yale team came out strongly in the first game to take the lead by beating the Yale team by two pins. The Yale team, however, came back strongly in the second bracket and cracked the lead for the first time. Although both teams performed exceptionally well, the Yale team rolled out to win the next three games and the league championship.

Dr. Wright, the Victoria was high scorer for the evening rolling for his five games at 224. Gerald of the Gerald team and the Hi-Grotes team were on hand on Thursday, with a total of 160 pins or an average of 22.4. This without a doubt is fine bowling and a good record for the founders. Following are the scores of the games rolled:

4-6, 6-2, 6-4 in a test match at the Toronto Lawn Tennis Club. Dr. Wright showed better form than Nanus, but the latter had a much better overhead. Nanus played a good baseline game, but many of his serves were weak.

Dr. Wright left last night for Hot Springs to join Marcelle Ivanovic. Monday morning he will join the team, in practice before the matches begin on May 11. Nanus will leave later.

Reiber, Rookie Catcher Proves Cobb Is Wrong

Frank Isn't Pigeon-toed
But He Reaches Top
With Detroit

DETROIT, May 3.—Oscar Reiber, a home town boy, makes his major league ball club start to move again for Frank Reiber at Detroit this year. Reiber, 21, is the first rookie to play for the Tigers in 1933. He had some aspirations to be the regular catcher, but the job went to Bill Dickey. The games began each day grabbed a catcher's mitt and warmed up the fingers for the pitchers.

To Cobb, then manager of the Tigers, Reiber was a "no-makes" but would never succeed because he was pigeon-toed.

However, Reiber thought Ty was off on this point and six years ago had a special exercise and sandlot club, the signed up.

Frank Reiber was sent to Evansville late in the 1932 season and he played too few times to be included in the records.

Reiber's first full season was with the St. Louis Cardinals of the Western Association, a Class C circuit.

There he was a good player, a good second baseman, and a good pitcher.

His fielding and a .300 average in 1931 made him stand out.

He was promoted to the Cardinals in 1932 and another switch to the Tigers.

A farm, Beaumont of the Texas League, Downey, Calif., helped him get started.

Reiber, 21, has been a good player ever since he joined the Tigers.

Some day Cobb may agree.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Smith of the Belmont team and the Hi-Grotes are requested to be on hand at the Victoria high school grounds Saturday at six o'clock for softball practice.

Bowling is still going strong. It will set the standard of the team for next Tuesday.

Pitchers will welcome the new that they get a real break with the wind-up permitted and no change in the pitching distance of thirty feet.

It is expected that the game will be fast and exciting.

From the performance at practice games last week, amateur strength is to be expected in the new rules. No other important rule changes are reported.
